Plans Do Not Screen for Pre-existing Conditions

Unless a beneficiary has permanent kidney failure, he/she may join any Medicare Advantage plan in the area. Enrollment cannot be denied or delayed based on a pre-existing condition.

No Paperwork

Generally, as long as a beneficiary stays in the Medicare Advantage Plan, the beneficiary will have little or no paperwork.

When outside the plan's service area, most plans only cover emergency, urgent or renal dialysis services. Members must submit claims for out-of-area services. The plan reviews these claims to make sure the services were urgent or emergent.

Plans May Alter Their Packages

Medicare Advantage plans may alter their packages of benefits. payments and providers each year (but they must always provide standard Medicare services).
